Trace the lines and connect the dots.

Tracing practice area consisting of 13 rows of patterns. The first row features five solid horizontal lines with arrows pointing right, each starting from an open circle and ending at a solid black dot. Below each solid line is a dashed line that starts at an open circle, goes horizontally to a solid black dot, then curves down and up to the next open circle. The remaining 12 rows consist of five dashed lines per row, each starting at an open circle and ending at a solid black dot, with the same curved dashed line pattern below them.
